

New to NorCal, I Need Race Car Storage in Bay Area

Posted by Yeti - 02 Oct 2015 12:19

I'm moving to San Francisco November 1st, and it looks like I need to find a home for my race car. I'm attempting to sell it, but If it doesn't happen it needs a home. Is there a race cave like place in the Bay Area where I can store it and work on it when need be? It's a bumper towed 944 Spec, so I don't need a lot of space. Does anyone have garage space they'd be willing to rent to a like minded individual? I look forward to meeting the 944 Spec crew and some great racing!

Thanx,

Nick Thiemann
