

Tech inspection

I've got a reminder and a question.

The reminder is that seat belts expire after 2 years from the manufacture date which is marked on the belt somewhere. Mine were expired as of December so I ordered new ones and just installed them tonight.

The question I have is whether the fire extinguisher expires or not? It has a date stamped on it but there is nothing in the rules that I could find mentioning an expiration. The gauge is still in the green. I just don't want to be doing a frantic search saturday morning for a new one.
