Cool, I let Gian drive my car at the TT event in nov. 16. He liked the way it drove. I talk to him about it when we meet up on race weekends. Can't wait to get the season underway!

Say, it looks like a 50% chance of rain in the afternoon on sat, and same early on Sunday. Whose gonna be running rain tires? I'm wondering if I should get a set.

Well now see 80% chance of rain Saturday afternoon. I remember the last time I ran there in the rain and ended up in the mud by pit entrance. (somewhere is a great video of me spinning in the mud) I don't think I every got that car completely clean.

On another note I heard from Bette at 7's Only and our area is now roped off in the paddock at the place we discussed, which is right across from the bathrooms and class room.

See everyone Friday night.

Anyone have a Porsche flag they can bring to fly in the Willow Springs breeze.
