Cool! Could use some in car action shots maybe of the close battle between you guys that you talk about in the video.

Thanks!

There's a few more clips to come about the safety/interior, and motor build. Jon is on assignment from Car & Driver, and is working to put this in on a segment of a piece on club racing for the Speed Channel. Jon was also out filming the cars, so hopefully some of that will get in there as well.

Good work Eric! Bentley has put together another video from the Southern California region that you may find useful as well in promoting the class. I expect it to be finished very soon. Once complete I will get it posted.
