

Fatal 944 incident at Daytona

Posted by GaryM05 - 29 Aug 2009 01:29

A recent racing accident at Daytona resulted in the very unfortunate loss of a 944 racer. Fire played a significant role in this accident. There's been a lot of discussion about this elsewhere, but I haven't seen anything on our various 944-spec sites yet so thought I'd post this here to make sure that none of us missed this.

Lots of detail on what can be learned from the accident here:

A few pics showing the extent of the fire:

Wow, that is crazy. makes me want to get a firesystem before stepping in the car. was only planning to get a FE.

Heck even in my drag car I only have a little FE. guess we all underestimate our chances. guess Fire system is next for me.

I am new here, could we get a link to a description/ report of the incident in question?

thanks,

John
