

Helmet Graphics Done

Posted by jaje - 27 Feb 2011 07:45

I've never had my helmet painted before so spent a long time looking into possible graphics patterns. I decided to go with an 60's LeMans paint scheme using vintage British Triumph racing colors. I had a local shop here (Topeka, KS) paint it. I'm very happy with how it turned out. The Helmet is a Pryotect pro airflow.

I like how you went classic but not flashy. Makes me want to buy a new helmet and get it painted up!

Forgot I posted this here. I figured I'd buy a new helmet (my old one expired) and then get it painted for less than $500 and it came out pretty well. I also bought some other nice items to treat myself.
