944-SPEC - 944SPEC - low cost wheel to wheel racing

Generated: 5 December, 2025, 23:07

| Getting the glue off in the interior Posted by mug23 - 08 Feb 2009 10:07 |
|--|
| Hello, |
| I'm in the process of taking some of the interior pieces out in the back seat and when I was taking the carpets out, there are like million pounds of glue Porsche uses to stick the carpets in there. |
| What do you guys use to take all that glue off? Heat gun? What chemicals can you use that would be easy? |
| Thanks |
| Re:Getting the glue off in the interior Posted by bay924s - 08 Feb 2009 14:15 |
| 3M adhesive remover, elbow grease and a lot of rags worked for me |
| Re:Getting the glue off in the interior Posted by GaryM05 - 08 Feb 2009 22:10 |
| I've heard that brake cleaner works well on that stuff. |
| Or, you can go all out and use Xylol on it. Just be warned that that stuff is STS (Super Toxic $h*t) and should only be used in a well-ventilated area. |
| Re:Getting the glue off in the interior Posted by cullenwinter - 08 Feb 2009 22:19 |
| |

Xylene works great, but the fumes devour brain cells and latex or nitrile gloves. You need the gloves that they sell for furniture or paint stripping. Those still only last about 45 minutes, so get a few pairs!!

should I do this in a warmer weather or like to a 40-50 degree weather?