

Need a fuel rail for an 85.5

Posted by Blackfeet - 16 Oct 2013 11:00

---

Hey guys, don't know if this is the place to make this post but I'm going put it here anyways. I am in need of a fuel rail for my 85.5 944. Just got done rebuilding the top end on it and after solving my no oil pressure problem, followed by a no start, I managed to break my fuel rail upon installation. I think I can manage to braze weld the leak shut but this will probably only server as a temporary fix. I live in Cumming, GA so if anyone is in my area and willing to sell me a fuel rail at a reasonable price please let me know! The fuel rail I need is for the later models. Also, if anyone has a radiator as well, I will need to be replacing that soon as I have sprung a small leak in it. Thanks guys!

=====

Re: Need a fuel rail for an 85.5

Posted by Blackfeet - 23 Oct 2013 10:14

---

Sorry to get back to you so delayed, could you shoot me an email at

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it so we can work out the details of delivery and payment for the fuel rail if you still have it available.

Thanks

Chris

=====