

Texas Round 3 recap

Posted by Al Fernandez - 01 May 2012 06:37

Brief recap on the news:

It might have been a small field, but the racing was intense!! Phil F, you are the man! hahaha

Huge welcome to Phil H, Jason, and (almost) to Kilynn (who now has a comp license but no cage). 944Spec in Texas is getting really good!

It was nice meeting everyone. I already feel like one of the group. I'm glad I'm finally back to racing. I've been itching for this for the last 5 years so it's a welcome event. I can't wait for Hallett. Hopefully we can network some and get a high car count at Hallett.

Did up a quick video of my fastest lap of the week end. I was disappointed that I couldn't get into the 2:08s as my progress should have allowed it in the last race. I just got to caught up watching Al and Phil #2 duke it out.
